CONIC RELEASES RAMU Q1 2020 OPERATING COSTS, ISSUES AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND ANNOUNCES RESULTS OF ANNUAL MEETING

TORONTO, ONTARIO, June 22, 2020 — Conic Metals Corp. (“Conic” or the “Company”) (TSXV: NKL) is pleased to provide operating costs for the quarter ending March 31, 2020 of the Company’s largest asset, being the Ramu Nickel-Cobalt (“Ramu”) integrated operation in Papua New Guinea (“PNG”). Conic currently holds an 8.56% joint-venture interest in the Ramu operation. Ramu is operated by the Metallurgical Corporation of China (“MCC”) which, along with its partners, owns an 85.0% interest in Ramu.

“Ramu’s operating costs continue to consistently show that it is a low cost asset capable of delivering strong cash flow despite the downward pressure we have seen on nickel and cobalt prices during this global pandemic” stated Justin Cochrane, President and CEO. “Our actual cash cost to produce a pound of nickel contained in MHP was well below $3.00 per pound which provides significant insulation against nickel price volatility” added Mr. Cochrane. According to Wood Mackenzie, the lowest quartile of C1 Cash Cost of nickel production is forecast to be $3.35 per pound in 2020. C1 Cash Cost differs from actual production cost as it includes transportation and refining costs to produce Class I or Class II nickel. Ramu produces nickel in the form of mixed hydroxide product (“MHP”) which contains approximately 40% nickel and 3.5% cobalt. MHP is a desired raw material for the manufacture of lithium ion battery cathode materials such as NCA and NMC, which are being extensively adopted in the electrification of vehicles.

The table below presents the previously disclosed production update with the addition of actual cash cost.

- A. Conic has included certain performance measures in this press release that do not have any standardized meaning prescribed by International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”), including (i) C1 Cash Cost and (ii) Cash Cost Actual. C1 Cash Cost is a metric published independently by Wood Mackenzie. The C1 Cash Cost presented is annualized cash cost to produce one pound of finished nickel product based on Wood Mackenzie’s analysis of global refined nickel operations. The presentation of these non-IFRS measures is intended to provide additional information and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance prepared in accordance with IFRS. Other companies may calculate these non-IFRS measures differently. Note these figures have not been audited and are subject to change.

Audited Financial Statements

On June 15, 2020, the Company filed its initial Audited Financial Statements and Management’s Discussion and Analysis for the period ended December 31, 2019. Mr. Cochrane commented on the filings “Conic finished the year with over US$4.4 million in cash and US$13.0 million in net working capital and repaid US$17.2 million of its Ramu operating debt on January 1st, 2020. These are outstanding results for Ramu which we believe is one of the best nickel-cobalt operations in the World.”

Additionally, Conic expects to file quarterly financial statements for the period ended March 31, 2020 (and related management’s discussion and analysis thereon) (collectively, the “Q1 2020 Disclosure Documents”) at the earliest opportunity and currently expects to file them no later than July 14, 2020, as previously announced.
